

Management report Simplicity Likviditet

THE FUND'S DEVELOPMENT DURING THE FIRST HALF OF THE YEAR

Simplicity Likviditet achieved a return of 2.35% after management fees during the first half of 2023. The fund's comparison index, consisting of 50% OMRX T-bill Index and 50% S&P Sweden Investment Grade Corporate Bond Index Total Return, increased by 1.61% during the same period.

Performance since 2006-10-31.

The positive return can be partly attributed to a high yield in the fund and partly to slightly decreasing credit spreads in the Swedish corporate bond market. A significant portion of the high yield is explained by the increase in short-term market interest rates during the year. The fund's duration averaged around two months, which is consistent with its historical duration and risk profile. The fund's average credit duration was in the range of 0.9 to 1.0 years. The fund's yield has increased during the year, and at the end of the first half, the average effective interest rate before management fees ranged from 5.0% to 5.1%.

The investment strategy, primarily focusing on investing in corporate certificates and corporate bonds issued in Swedish Krona by high credit-rated companies, known as Investment Grade companies, remained unchanged during the year. At the end of the first half, investments in such companies accounted for approximately 99% of the fund's assets, including cash. This allocation has been consistent over the past year and can be justified by the favorable return opportunities in this segment of the credit market. The fund also has the flexibility to invest a limited portion, up to five percent, in bonds issued by companies with slightly lower credit ratings, known as high-yield companies. Such investments made up a smaller portion of the fund's assets during the year and amounted to approximately two percent of the fund's assets at the end of the first half.

The 3-month Stibor rate was 3.81% at the end of the first half, compared to 2.70% at the beginning of the year. Consequently, short-term market interest rates increased during the first half of the year.

FIXED INCOME MARKET

The financial markets' performance during the first half of 2023 has been largely influenced by the global economic and inflationary trends, as well as the actions of central banks. The economic development has proven to be more resilient than what many observers had anticipated, with only a few sectors, such as construction, real estate, and consumer goods, showing relatively weaker performance.

Inflation has been high during the spring, although the rate of increase has moderated, partly due to base effects from factors like energy prices. Central banks have continued to raise interest rates in response to the situation, and market expectations regarding their further actions have significantly influenced the overall market sentiment. The rate hikes have led to an increase in short-term market interest rates, resulting in an inverted yield curve, where long-term bond yields are lower than short-term yields. Historically, this has been a reliable indicator of an impending recession.

The international banking system came under pressure in March when the American niche bank, Silicon Valley Bank, collapsed. The bank, which primarily served larger clients in the tech sector, had invested a significant portion of its liquidity in long-term US government bonds that lost much value as interest rates rose. With many of the bank's customers wanting to withdraw their deposited funds, the bank was forced to sell off large parts of its bond portfolio, resulting in substantial losses. When the bank communicated this situation, it led to further outflows of funds and ultimately became unsustainable, leading to the takeover of the bank by US authorities. The situation spread to the rest of the banking system, and even Signature Bank had to close its operations in March. The significant test for the banking system occurred when the Swiss banking giant, Credit Suisse, came under pressure. The bank had been grappling with significant problems for some time, but in the wake of events in the US, Credit Suisse also faced significant outflows, which eventually led to the Swiss authorities engineering a solution where the bank was taken over by its local competitor, UBS. The remarkable aspect of the deal was that Credit Suisse shareholders received some compensation for their shares, while holders of so-called AT1 bonds saw the value of their securities written down to zero, contrary to the usual priority order in insolvency situations. This measure initiated by the Swiss financial regulator caused bank bond prices to plummet. However, after EU regulatory authorities came out and stated that a similar setup would not be applicable within the EU, the market recovered. The corporate bond market performed well in the early part of the year. However, volatility increased as uncertainty regarding central banks' future actions and the state of the banking system grew. Nevertheless, this development was largely limited because the average yield has been at very high levels due to higher interest rates and credit spreads, resulting in a positive total return for the first half of the year. The primary market activity was strong in Europe and the USA but relatively low in the Nordic region. This is explained by many real estate companies choosing to refinance through banks rather than the bond market, as they believe the pricing in the latter has been too high. The liquidity in the market has varied but has mostly remained at an acceptable level.

RISKMANAGEMENT AND KEY FIGURES

The fund's standard deviation over the past two years is 0.81%, indicating a slight increase. This is primarily due to the higher interest rates, which result in a higher running yield but also slightly larger fluctuations in returns. The fund managers actively work to manage risk by maintaining a well-diversified portfolio with a large number of bonds and issuers, as well as maintaining a short duration and average maturity. The duration is capped at one year but typically falls within the range of one to six months, and it stood at 0.24 years at the end of the first half of the year, while the average maturity was 0.97 years.

The fund's activity level is described by the metric of active risk, which measures how much the fund's performance deviates from its benchmark index over time. The benchmark index consists of 50% OMRX T-bill Index and 50% S&P Sweden Investment Grade Corporate Bond Index Total Return. The company believes that this combination of indices provides a good representation of the fund's long-term investment approach, including asset allocation, maturity, and currency exposure. The fund's active risk over the past two years has been 1.17%. The fund's high activity level is a result of its actively managed approach, often deviating significantly from its benchmark index in terms of sector allocation, geographic allocation, and weight in specific bonds.

HOLDINGS AND POSITIONS

As of the year-end, approximately 99% of the fund's portfolio, including cash, was invested in companies with the highest credit quality, known as Investment Grade bonds. The remaining portion, approximately one percent, consisted of investments in bonds with slightly lower credit quality, referred to as High Yield bonds. The fund does not invest in bonds rated below BB in terms of credit quality. The distribution between companies with official ratings and those without official ratings was approximately 76% and 19%, respectively. The fund's holdings in liquid assets accounted for about five percent of the fund's total value, representing a slight decrease compared to the year-end.

DEVELOPMENT OF FUND ASSETS

The fund experienced a net outflow of 493 MSEK, and as of June 30, 2023, the assets under management amounted to 12,145 MSEK.

DERIVATIVES

To streamline management and protect the fund's assets from exchange rate and market risks, the fund is permitted to engage in trading options and futures contracts. However, during the first half of the year, the fund did not utilize this opportunity.

SIGNIFICANT EVENTS

No significant events have been reported during the first half of 2023.

Financial instruments

Realized earnings consist of the difference between the sales value and the original acquisition value. When calculating realized earnings, the average method has been used. Transaction costs are included in the acquisition value and are deducted from the sales value. Financial instruments have been valued at market value corresponding to the current closing price on the closing date.
